

West Germany urges U.N. to move on hostage-taking

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — West Germany formally called for creation of a U.N. panel to draft a global convention against the taking of hostages Friday.

"Hostage-taking is intolerable ... it infringes upon the dignity, safety and fundamental rights of the individual," West German Ambassador Baron Rudiger von Wechmar told the General Assembly's legal committee as he introduced a seven-point resolution.

A key paragraph of the document asks the panel to draw up a treaty that would ban transportation of hostages across national boundaries and require nations to punish or extradite aircraft hijackers and other extremists who take hostages.

The West German resolution is co-sponsored by 16 other countries from all five continents.

Measures against hijacking and other extremist actions have been on the U.N. agenda every year since the slaying of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics in 1972. But the General Assembly so far has been unable to take action because of Arab and other Third World reluctance.

To make the new proposal as acceptable as possible, neither the resolution nor von Wechmar's speech contained the word "terrorism." Nevertheless, the draft resolution against hostage-taking is expected to prompt sharp debate both in the committee and the assembly.

The resolution would authorize the General Assembly to set up a 35-nation panel to write a binding convention.

The United States and many other nations are expected to join in co-sponsoring the resolution.

In addition to West Germany, the current co-sponsors on record now include Austria, Central African Republic, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, Ecuador, Iran, Italy, Liberia, Luxembourg, Nepal, the Netherlands, Surinam, Sweden, Turkey and Venezuela.

4 more steel firms announce hikes, but top 2 stay same

6 companies have raised prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four more steel firms increased prices Friday on steel used in autos and consumer goods, despite criticism by the White House and uncertainty whether the top two producers would follow.

The price hikes averaged about 6 per cent and brought the total number of companies involved to six.

But U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, and second-ranked Bethlehem were missing from the list of those hiking prices. Their actions could determine whether the new prices will stick. Neither firm had any immediate reaction to the developments.

The increases in the flatrolled steel used widely in the automotive and appliance industries could be passed on to consumers in the form of higher prices.

Firms that raised prices Friday were Armco Steel of Middletown, Ohio; Youngstown Sheet and Tube of Youngstown, Ohio; Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel of Pittsburgh, and Inland Steel of Chicago.

The price hikes, effective Dec. 1, range from $15 to $20 a ton on various sheet products. Existing per-ton base prices for the major categories are $249 for hot-rolled sheet, $231 for hot-rolled bands, and $296 for cold-rolled sheet.

Third-ranked National Steel Corp. touched off the round of increases Wednesday. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. followed almost immediately.

All six companies said sheet steel prices have long been inadequate and that renewed strength in the market fully justified the increases.

"We've gotten to the point where we can't give it away anymore," said one steel company official.

President Ford, however, reacted with swift, sharp criticism after National's announcement and ordered the Wage and Price Stability Council to investigate.

"We are surprised by National's decision since it does not appear that the demand for steel products is strong enough to sustain a price increase of this size," William Lilley III, acting director of the council, said then.

The council had no immediate reaction to Friday's price hikes. But Lilley said Wednesday that his agency would seek price, profit and sales data from any steel producer that raised prices.

While the council has no power to order a price rollback, the White House apparently was hoping it could bring pressure on steel firms to reconsider.

Voting fraud charged in Carter's victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A suit charging "widespread election fraud" by supporters of President-elect Jimmy Carter was filed Friday in U.S. District Court here in an attempt to overturn the presidential election in Ohio.

The suit was filed by Richard Reichel on behalf of electors from the Republican, U.S. Labor and American parties. "It is based upon our belief that in the recent election there was widespread election fraud that we have been able to document to a certain extent," said Reichel, a Republican.

Reichel said he would seek a temporary injunction early next week to prevent Secretary of State Ted Brown from certifying Carter's 25 electors for the Dec. 13 meeting of the electoral college.

Train rams gas tanks; 11 hurt in blast

BELT, Mont. (AP) — A freight train derailed and slammed into four propane gas storage tanks Friday, touching off two explosions that injured 11 persons and engulfed half a dozen business buildings in flames.

The first explosion occurred when the train derailed about 3 p.m. on the outskirts of this central Montana town of 650 persons. The second blast came about two hours later.

The wreckage of one railroad car was blown 300 feet off the tracks.

The propane storage tanks at the Farmers Union Oil Co. cooperative located alongside the tracks each had a capacity of 30,000 gallons, officials said.

Volunteer firemen who rushed to the town from surrounding communities worked until early evening in near-zero temperatures to contain the fires.

But the Farmers Union coop, two grain elevators and an overturned tank car burned into the night, officials said.

Five of the injured were hospitalized in Great Falls, 25 miles away, with second- and third-degree burns. The others were treated and released, hospital spokesmen said.

Because the train derailed on a bridge over the only direct road into town, all rescue and firefighting units had to make a five-mile detour to reach the fires.

Witnesses said the Farmers Union farm-supply store was leveled, and a grain elevator and weekly newspaper building were damaged heavily.

Heavy residual oil oozed from a damaged tank car after the accident and Civil Defense workers fought to keep it from reaching the flames. The oil initially was thought to be asphalt.

SEARCHES FOR HIS MOTHER

A young boy in the village of Caidiran in eastern Turkey digs with a shovel amid rubble in search of his mother Friday. Officials predicted that the death toll will reach 4,000 as a result of the massive quake that shook the area Wednesday. Rescue workers estimate that 2,000 villagers in Caidiran lost their lives in the quake.

Official urges tighter state adoption laws

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A tightening of state adoption laws was recommended Friday by state Health Director Jerome Lackner.

Lackner said a shortage of babies eligible for adoption has pushed the waiting period to two or three years, and increased the temptation for questionable or illegal shortcuts.

Health Department records show there were 12,057 adoptions in the year ended June 30, 1969, but only 2,305 in the year ended June 30, 1975 — an 80 per cent decrease in six years.

Lackner said most of the abuses occur when a natural parent follows existing laws which permit her to relinquish the child to adoptive parents without assistance from a licensed agency.

A doctor, lawyer, clergyman or nurse often acts as intermediary, and the mother doesn't know who gets her child, Lackner said.

"This situation can and does lead to situations of black market adoption, or baby selling and buying, as well as undue influence on the natural parent and unsuitable homes for adoptive children," Lackner said in a statement.

"A third party intermediary, who essentially places a child and thus acts as an adoptive agency, violates state licensing laws. However, this violation is currently only a misdemeanor, and prosecution is seldom carried forth or successful."

Lackner said violations should be felonies.

He also recommended that the law:

—Require studies of potential adoptive parents before placement, rather than after.

—Mandate a sliding fee schedule based on adoptive parents' income.

—Prohibit lawyers from serving both natural and adoptive parents.

—Allow private adoption agencies to perform independent adoptions.

—Mandate a court hearing when the natural parent insists on an adoptive parent with a disapproved home study.

Arab threat: death to all

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani of Saudi Arabia said Friday if the Arabs have to use their oil as a weapon in another Mideast war it could lead to the "destruction of everyone."

In a speech at Edinburgh University, Yamani said there is a "very strong Zionist influence in American society" but Arab oil producers are the "true friends" of the West.

"I hope the new administration (of President-elect Jimmy Carter) in the United States and the other Western powers will not fail to recognize this fact," Yamani said.

He declared that "if the situation in the Middle East erupts again, none of the countermeasures, not even the IEA (International Energy Agency) will be able to defeat oil once it is used as a weapon. Peace in the Middle East is the only way to defuse this weapon."

Yamani's warning came amid indications that the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) will raise the price of oil at a meeting in Qatar next month, probably in the area of 10 per cent.

Policeman charged in boy's slaying

NEW YORK (AP) — A police officer was suspended Friday and charged in the shooting death of a 15-year-old boy who was slain as he walked home after taking his grandmother to a bus stop on Thanksgiving night.

Robert Torsney, 31, a police officer for six years, was released on $20,000 bail Friday. He was charged with second-degree murder in the pointblank shooting of Randolph Evans.

The policeman's mental stability was questioned by Asst. Dist. Atty. Martin Fogelson, who said in State Supreme Court that he believed the shooting was "either a cold-blooded killing or a killing by someone with mental problems."

The dead boy's father, Glenn Evans, called the shooting "out and out murder."

Torsney was arrested at 6 a.m. at his precinct house. He was later ordered held without bail by Judge Richard Brown in Brooklyn Criminal Court.

However, his attorney, Edward Rappaport, and Douglas Weaving, head of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, told the state Supreme Court it would be "virtually impossible" to assure the officer's safety if he were jailed on Riker's Island, the local prison.

Probe of business leader also demanded

Mexican leaders agree to temporary land truce

CULIACAN, Mexico (AP) — Landowners and leaders of poor farm workers demanding land agreed Friday to a temporary truce to allow a peaceful change of administration in Mexico, the governor of Sinaloa state said.

Gov. Alfonso Calderon said both sides accepted a proposal from the landowners providing for immediate redistribution of about 32,000 acres of farm land in the northwestern Mexico state.

Under the agreement, talks over parceling out more land are to be suspended until next Wednesday's inauguration of President-elect Jose Lopez Portillo.

"This 32,000 acres is not enough to solve the problem but we accept the recommendation so that calm might return to the country," Gov. Calderon said.

In another development, politicians, farm workers and labor leaders demanded a federal investigation of the head of Mexico's largest employers' organization. They blamed the business leader, Andres Marcelo Sada, for rumors and lack of confidence they said have worsened the nation's economic problems.

Sada sharply criticized a move last week by outgoing President Luis Echeverria to expropriate 243,000 acres of land in neighboring Sonora state.

In Sinaloa, Gov. Calderon said the temporary truce was worked out by Echeverria in meetings with landowner representatives and leaders of the landless farmers, or campesinos. The farmers had threatened to invade and squat on half a million acres in the state, Mexico's richest vegetable-producing region.

Luis Gambino, the leader of one peasant group, said some members of his organization had been waiting 20 years for land redistribution. "We are pressing the issue now because we see that President Echeverria intends to make agrarian distribution a reality in Mexico," he said.

Carlos Castro, president of the Confederation of Farmers' Organizations in Sinaloa, said he believes the truce proposal is a good one. "But we will keep our guard up because they could still give us a low blow," he said.

Mexico's constitution makes it illegal for one person to own more than 250 acres of land. The government claims most of the Sinaloa farm land is held illegally by only a few people. The owners, however, claim they hold the land legally even though various 250-acre parcels might be combined in the hands of one family.

Marcelo Sada, president of the National Confederation of Employers, said in criticizing the Sonora expropriation move that the government had "violated individual guarantees" and was trying to impose a socialist or Communist system on Mexico.

'Other Side of Mountain' based on her life

Jill Kinmont, 40, paralyzed in skiing accident, marries

BISHOP (AP) — Jill Kinmont, whose paralyzing ski accident was dramatized in the film "The Other Side of the Mountain," married a man from her hometown Friday.

Miss Kinmont, 40, wed John G. Boothe, 35, before about 40 family members. Boothe works for a local trucking firm and his bride teaches remedial reading in the Bishop schools.

The couple met two years ago when Miss Kinmont and her mother moved back to the High Sierra resort town of Bishop, where skiing is a way of life, and rented a home from Boothe. She had been teaching in Beverly Hills.

Miss Kinmont was the nation's top skiing hope for the 1966 Olympics when she took a spill during a giant slalom competition at Alta, Utah, in 1965, and slammed into a tree, crushing three vertebrae.

"The Other Side of the Mountain," starring Marilyn Hassett and Beau Bridges, was released last year and focused on the relationship between Miss Kinmont and Dick Buek, who helped her recover from the accident. Buek was killed in a plane crash 19 years ago.

Miss Kinmont never married after Buek's death. She said she had planned to marry Buek.

"We had plans but nothing definite," she said. "We talked about how we'd build a house with an airplane hangar next to it."

Her wedding to Boothe took place in the home of her closest childhood friend, Audra Jo Baumgarth, a skier whose legs were paralyzed by trips through the mountains around Bishop, about 300 miles northeast of Los Angeles, where the Gold Rush created a boom in the last century and skiers have brought a new era of development.

"John is from a pioneer family in the valley and I was fascinated with the history and wanted to talk to him and learn about the old ranching families who lived here," she said. "His family runs a pack station in the mountains."

The Kinmont family operated a guest ranch in the area for many years. Her father, Bill Kinmont, died several years ago.

Miss Kinmont is paralyzed from the shoulders down but has some arm movement. She said it is physiologically possible for her to have children but "We don't plan any" because of her age.

"The Other Side of the Mountain" has just been rereleased. A sequel is planned, and work is to begin next February. It will deal with Miss Kinmont's struggle to become a teacher and with her romance with Boothe, who was divorced when they met.

After her recovery, she graduated from UCLA and taught in Beverly Hills from 1967-74. She spent the summers in Bishop.

JILL KINMONT

Miss Kinmont said she became friends with Boothe because of her interest in the history of the Bishop area. She said Boothe takes her on car

Prisoner, 33, stabbed at CIM

A 33-year-old prison inmate was stabbed in the chest and beaten at California Institution for Men in Chino Friday in what officials said was a gang-related incident.

Peter LeClerc was reported in stable condition at San Bernardino County Hospital after the 9 a.m. stabbing on the first floor of Palm Hall, the prison's maximum security unit.

Prison officials said the incident occurred when four inmates including LeClerc were exercising outside their cells. The three other inmates allegedly stabbed LeClerc twice in the chest and inflicted serious head injuries on the victim.

The stabbing was "a planned thing," according to Marv Ryer, CIM's public information officer. "We think it was gang-related but that's all we know right now."

Chino police are conducting an investigation and will decide whether to file charges against the three inmates, Ryer noted. No weapon was found after the stabbing.

Ryer declined to release the names of the three inmates accused in the incident.

LeClerc was being held in the Chino prison on a burglary charge.

Demo admits Pack 'payoff'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House majority Whip John J. McFall, D-Calif., said Friday he received $1,000 from South Korean businessman Tongsun Park four years ago, in addition to the $3,000 from 1974 he earlier reported.

McFall told reporters in his office that the $1,000 — in cash, delivered in an envelope like the $3,000 — was found in a staff search of office financial records.

All of the money went into either McFall's office account or his office's petty cash fund, according to the copies he provided of deposit slips, bank statements and canceled checks since April, 1972.

None of it went "into my pocket," he said. He, his staff and his daughter drew on the unregulated office account for short-term interest-free loans to cover such expenses as income taxes, tuition and the cost of a new automobile, the records showed.

All the loans were repaid, according to the records.

Park has figured in a continuing investigation by the Justice Department and federal grand juries of an alleged South Korean influence - peddling scheme.

United Way drives pass halfway mark toward goals

West End reaches 61 per cent

The West End United Way drive now stands at $352,211, or 61 per cent of the overall goal of $576,550.

Employees of San Antonio Community Hospital raised $13,680, which is a 20 per cent increase over last year, in a competitive campaign.

Teams from the hospital departments competed in a contest which used trucks on a transcontinental drive as its theme. The physical therapy department won.

Division reports were presented at a recent meeting headed by campaign chairman T. Stanley Warburton.

At present the standings are: Division A, Dick Verrue, $165,748, 59 per cent of goal; Division B, Joe Aldern, $73,976, 57 per cent; Division C, Ken Wright, $16,388, 51 per cent; Division D, Randy Bond, $11,277, 63 per cent; Division E, Warburton, $50,718, 51 per cent; Division F, Jackie Jeffrey-Schessler, $9,420, 70 per cent; Division G, Emma Dagan, $16,233, 71 per cent; Combined federal giving, Chuck Linck and Jerry Yocom, $6,887, 84 per cent; and mass mailing, $1,567.

Warburton said that persons who have not been reached by the campaign are urged to send their contributions directly to the United Way headquarters, 309 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, 91762.

East Zone now stands at 59.2%

The East Zone of Los Angeles County United Way, which covers Pomona, Claremont, La Verne, San Dimas and Diamond Bar, has reached 59.2 per cent of its 1976-77 campaign goal.

The zone, to date, has raised $178,646 of its goal of $301,137, according to John M. Felton, vice president and general manager of Security Pacific National Bank in Pomona, the zone chairman.

The zone total is ahead of the average for the Region II of which it is a member. The region figure now stands at $1,902,610, or 51 per cent of its goal of $3,729,333.

Typical of the success story in the zone is the gain in employee pledges at Pomona Valley Community Hospital. This year, hospital staffers have pledged $24,000, or a 24 per cent increase over last year.

PVCH has ranked among the top hospitals in Los Angeles County during the past several years, with an increase in giving reported each year since 1972.

The campaign at the hospital is conducted by the personnel department. This year a two-day rally was held with "The Fifties" as the campaign theme.

A hospital spokesman said that much of the enthusiasm for the United Way-Red Cross campaign resulted from employees' awareness of the services performed by local agencies supported by the annual fund-raising drive.

Among the local agencies assisted through the United Way are the Ontario-Pomona Association for Retarded Citizens, Visiting Nurse Association of Pomona West End, Legal Aid Society of Pomona Valley, Boys Republic, McKinley Home for Boys, Family Service of Pomona, Old Baldy Council Boys Scouts of America, Spanish Trails Girl Scouts Council, Mt. San Antonio Council Camp Fire Girls, Pomona Boys Club, Salvation Army Family Service, YMCA of Pomona Valley and Greater Pomona Valley YWCA.

The class will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. for three weeks. Cost will be $9 for YMCA members and $12 for non-members.

Women of all ages and capabilities may enroll. For information, persons may call 623-6433.

'Our Town' will be staged at Claremont High

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Claremont theatre goers will be treated to a presentation of one of America's greatest plays next Thursday, Friday and Saturday when the Claremont High School's drama department presents Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" at the high school theatre.

Curtain time will be 8:15 p.m.

The play, which won the coveted Circle Theatre Award as well as numerous other honors, will be directed by Fred Chacon, first-year drama teacher.

Chacon explained that he chose "Our Town" as the drama group's first production of the season because it is "a show to which all students should be exposed."

"There are a lot of positive values presented in it," he said.

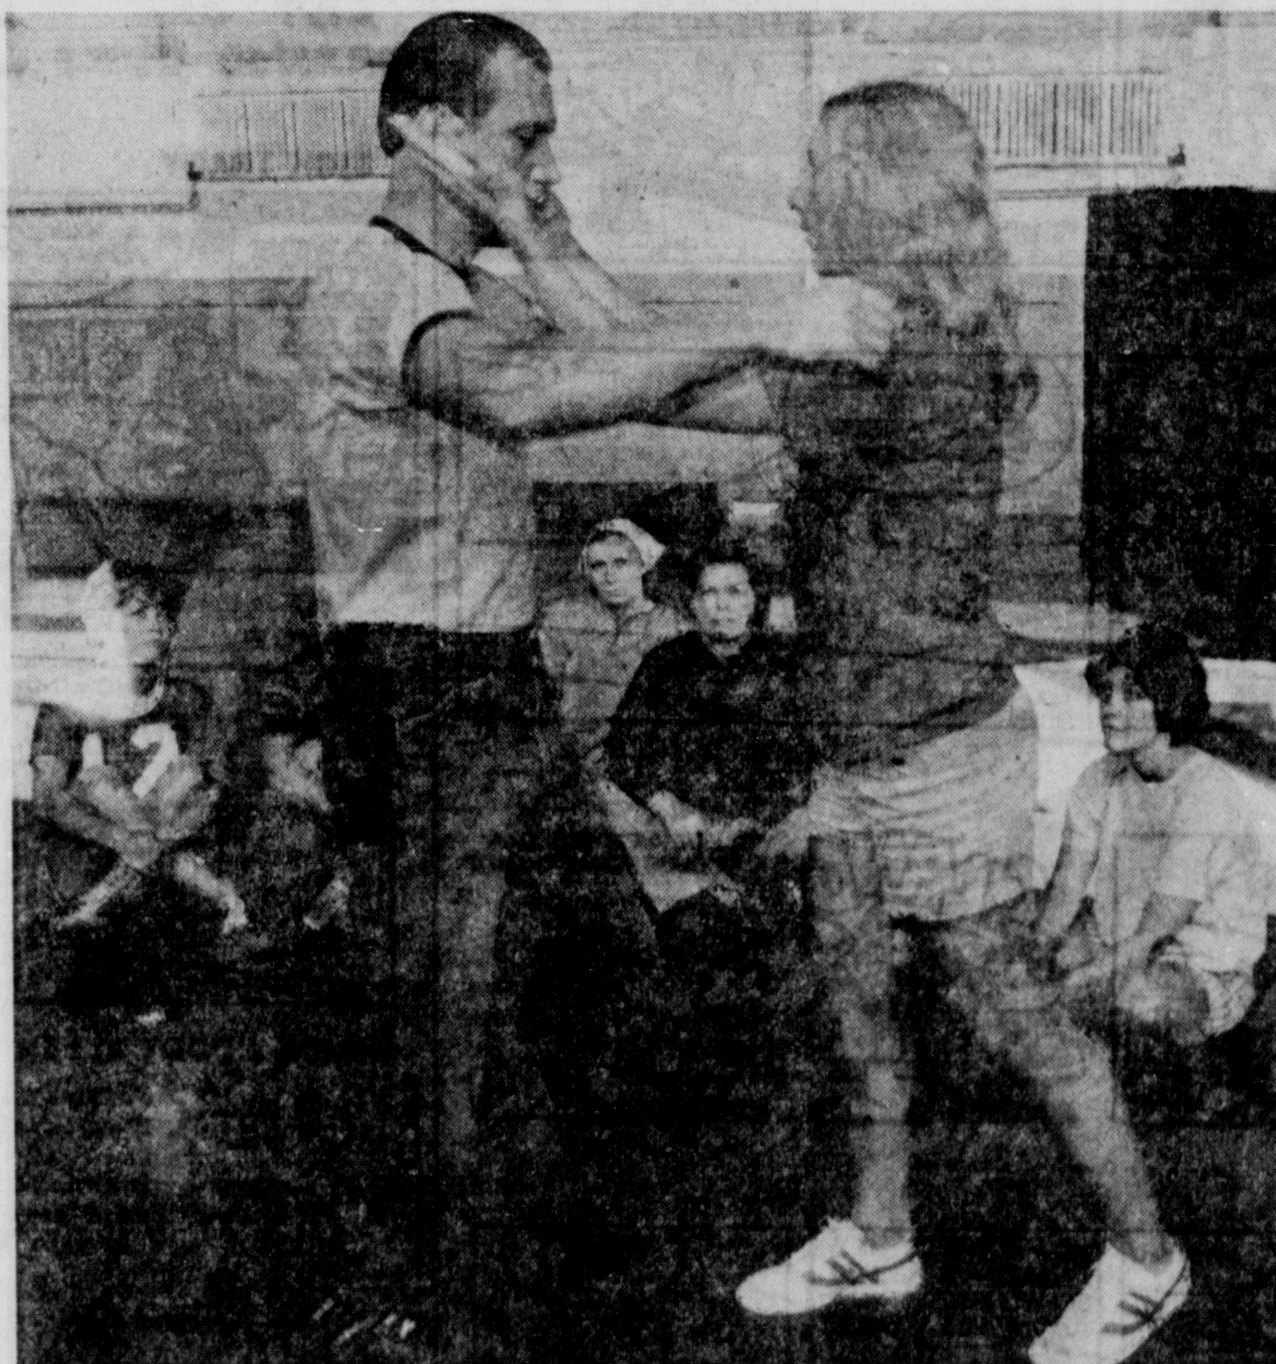

Chacon said that "Our Town" is a good play to start the season because the emphasis is on acting.

"You know," he said, "that the play has no props nor scenery."

He explained that the stage manager, played by Bob Walker, "sets the stage" for the audience.

Chacon is a graduate of South Utah State College. He was a member of the Utah Shakespeare Festival. He attended Cal Poly Pomona to earn his teaching credentials.

Tickets for "Our Town" are on sale for $2 for adults and $1.75 for students with a high school ASB card.

Della Robbia wreath office opens at plaza

Boys Republic will open a Della Robbia wreath office at the Montclair Plaza on Wednesday.

Max Scott, director of the school-farm community for troubled boys, reported that the school has decided to open an outlet for the first time this year at the West End regional shopping center. The outlet will be located in the South Plaza Lane.

Scott said he hopes that additional sales will be made through persons visiting the plaza for their holiday shopping. The wreath program is in its 53rd year. The wreaths are designed after the 15th century ceramic wreaths of the Della Robbia family in Florence, Italy.

The distribution outlet at the plaza will be open from 1 to 8 p.m. beginning Wednesday. Wreaths are hung in the area where Santa Claus is greeting local youngsters inside the main plaza lane, and interested persons may see them there before ordering a wreath at the outlet.

The 20-inch wreath is $13.95 and the 30-inch is $21.95.

Swim lessons

Swim lessons for babies and adults will be offered by the Pomona Valley YMCA starting Monday.

By a 3-2 vote

Claremont council still favors freeway extension

By GEORGE MACLAREN
PB Staff Writer

The much-disputed Foothill Freeway extension through Claremont again has been aired at a Claremont City Council meeting, and that city body again has favored the freeway extension by a 3-2 vote.

The matter came under council discussion Tuesday night in connection with pedestrian safety problems along Base Line Road, which is carrying more and more traffic as homes are built in Claremont and Upland to the north of the state highway.

Councilman Frank Hungerford had moved that the council accept seven Traffic Safety Commission recommendations, including one that the council request Caltrans to extend the Foothill Freeway through Claremont as soon as possible.

Councilmember Eleanor Cohen amended Hungerford's motion that the council request that Caltrans make a decision regarding the Foothill Freeway as soon as possible.

In the vote on the amendment, Mrs. Cohen and Councilmember Claire McDonald voted yes, but Hungerford, Mayor Bertie Smith and Councilman Richard Newton voted no.

Newton then moved that the council go along with the Traffic Safety Commission's recommendation with the understanding that the wording and thinking going into a Caltrans letter "are extremely critical" and should not prejudice any improvement to Base Line Road.

Newton's motion passed 3-2, with Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. McDonald voting no. City Manager Norman King said that he doesn't believe that there is any way that the freeway is going to be built within the next 20 years.

He suggested that Caltrans could design the freeway from its present terminus in San Dimas to the San Bernardino County line, and "they still string us along."

King said that he would rather see any design money used first on improving Base Line Road. Hungerford said that "everybody wants to force the issue on the freeway," and referred to the Foothill Freeway Association's campaign to get the freeway completed.

"Why should the state fix up Base Line Road if they are going to build the freeway?" asked Mrs. McDonald.

Hungerford said he wants to keep open the opportunity to push for completion of the freeway.

Mrs. Smith said that in a conversation with Caltrans head Adriana Gianturco recently at a luncheon that Mrs. Gianturco in "no uncertain terms" said that she is not for completion of the Foothill Freeway.

"Traffic on Base Line

Road is going to get worse," Newton said.

"Base Line Road will be a heavily traveled road for many years, but some things can be done in the interim," he said.

He noted that quite a bit of Base Line Road is in county territory between Claremont and La Verne.

"We should treat the Base Line issue separately from the freeway," Newton said. "We should watch our priorities and timing."

The council agreed that "for planning purposes" the city staff should consider the Foothill Freeway 15 to 20 years away.

The council approved the following commission recommendations:

—That the city urge

Caltrans to install traffic signals on Base Line Road at Towne, Mountain and Mills avenues and India Hill Boulevard.

ENERGY FROM WIND — The tower and wind generator which might be built at Southern California Edison Co.'s San Geronio Pass site would be a modified version of the year-old prototype under study at Sandusky, Ohio. Edison's site is among the top 17 site contenders chosen by the federal Energy Research and Development Administration.

Wind-monitoring equipment due at S.G. Pass site

Wind-monitoring equipment is scheduled to arrive at Southern California Edison Co.'s experimental windmill site near San Geronio Pass within two weeks.

"The proposed location near SCE's Devers Substation is among 17 sites throughout the nation being considered by the federal Energy Research and Development Administration," said D.E. Cooper, Edison's project coordinator.

Instrumentation towers will be erected on each of the sites to record wind data for 18 months as the first phase of the federal experimental wind turbine program.

"The monitoring tower will be located southwest of Desert Hot Springs and about eight miles north of Palm Springs," Cooper said. "It will be 160-feet high and record wind speed and direction at both 30 and 150 foot levels."

ERDA and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) developed the first 100-kilowatt wind turbine prototype last year at Plum Brook, Sandusky, Ohio.

Based on experience gained from experiments and modifications made to the Sandusky model, ERDA plans to build another two in 1977 of similar size but twice the power output (enough power for about 140 homes each) and, with further testing, to develop two larger units, by 1978.

"The second phase of ERDA's program involves selection of four of the 17 first phase sites and equipping the four with experimental wind turbines ranging from 125 to 1,500 capacity," he said.

The larger models would have a tower 150-feet tall and windmill blades as long as 100-feet. The blades would rotate between 30 and 40 revolutions per minute in winds of 11 miles per hour, with maximum efficiency at wind speeds of 22 mph.

When operating, each machine could supply electric power to about 1,100 homes, estimates indicate.

An ERDA-NASA inspection team visited the Edison site in late October. "We are optimistic that the Devers site will be one of those selected since it has one of the most consistent year-round high velocity wind ratings in the state," said Cooper.

Mobile chest X-ray unit to arrive in West End soon

The mobile chest X-ray unit operated by the Lung Association of San Bernardino, Inyo and Mono counties will be in the West End area Monday through Thursday.

Hours for the unit will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. each day.

The unit will be at the Alpha Beta Market, 829 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland, on Monday; Mayfair Market, 9850 Central Ave., Montclair, on Tuesday; corner of Fourth Street and Mountain Avenue, Ontario, on Wednesday; and Fourth Street and Grove Avenue, Ontario, on Thursday.

Chest X-rays are an important part of preventive medicine as they detect many respiratory problems in addition to tuberculosis.

The association asks a $2 donation to meet its costs. For this charge, each person will receive a written report of the X-ray.

Last firearm training course slated Dec. 4

The Upland Recreation Department is offering the last security guard firearm training course of the year on Dec. 4.

This class enables security guards who carry a firearm to fulfill a state requirement that requires them to take such a course.

Classroom instruction will be held from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the recreation hall, 404 N. Second Avenue, Upland. Range qualifications will be held Dec. 5. All participants must supply their own weapon and ammunition.

The registration fee must be paid in advance at the Upland Recreation Department. For further information call 995-0994.

Damien goes wild

By MIKE BROSSART

PB Staff Writer

Damien High's football team may be many things but dull is not one of them.

The Spartans spotted Poly High of Riverside 14 points in the first four minutes of the wildest first half imaginable before fighting back for an incredible 45-29 decision over the Bears Friday night at Damien.

With the win, the Spartans earned a trip to the quarterfinals of the CIF 3A playoffs for the second year in a row. They will be the visiting team next week against Century League champion Villa Park, a 36-7 winner over previously undefeated Pacifica Friday night.

Poly had allowed only 8.6 points per game going into Friday's contest, but had not seen the likes of Dan Marconi.

Marconi, for whom big-yardage games are practically a weekly occurrence, had his best game as a varsity quarterback against the bewildered Bears.

The spunky junior completed 18 of 26 passes for 361 yards and three touchdowns to lead Damien to 513 yards of total offense. Marconi completed six consecutive passes at one point in the first half, and had connected on 17 of 22 before throwing an incompletion and two interceptions among his final three aeriels.

He now has nearly 1,600 passing yards for the year.

But even Marconi's performance could not eclipse the excitement of the first quarter, which ended in a 21-21 tie. The Spartans quickly found themselves 14 points behind when Poly scored on a 72-yard run by Scott Corriveau on the fourth play from scrimmage and then came right back with an eight-yard scoring pass from Jack Woodhead to Duff Wiley after Damien fumbled the ball away on its first offensive play.

The Spartans, who have trailed by as much as 21 points in a first quarter (against Claremont) and still won, came back with three touchdowns in a four-minute span for a 21-14 lead.

Leo Burke, who led Damien rushers with 57 yards on eight carries, blasted up the middle for a 33-yard TD to get the Spartans going.

Poly's Bruce Richards took the ensuing kickoff and knealt on one knee, thinking that he was in the end zone. But in fact he was standing on about the half-yard line, where the ball was spotted.

Three plays later Damien safety Gil Garcia picked off Woodhead's pass at the 11 and scampered into the end zone. Brian Sullivan kicked the second of his six extra points to tie the score at 14 with only 7:27 elapsed.

Sullivan's kicking was perfect all night. Besides making all his PAT attempts and a 32-yard field goal, he sent all eight of his kickoffs past Poly's 10-yard line.

He kicked three into the end zone, three to the one, another to the two, and his "worst" to the seven.

The Spartans then took a 21-14 lead on a bit of razzle-dazzle. On his second play from scrimmage after a Poly punt, Marconi pitched out to halfback Brian Potter, who began the season as Damien's No. 1 quarterback before injuring a thumb.

Potter caught the Bears offguard with a pass to split end Tom Lopez, who eluded a Poly defender and turned the play into a 48-yard touchdown.

But the first period, with 2:27 remaining, was far from over. In fact it was just 13 seconds later that Poly's Dave McRae scored on an 80-yard run on the first play of the Bears' next possession. Woodhead's third PAT kick tied the score at 21 with 2:27 left in the exhausting (even to watch) first quarter.

The last couple of minutes of that period elapsed without a score but the Spartans took the lead for good on a six-yard toss from Marconi to Lopez just nine seconds into the second period.

Damien took charge from that point on. A two-yard scoring run by Jason Wight and an 88-yard TD pass from Marconi to John Davis, sandwiched around Sullivan's field goal, gave the Spartans a 45-21 lead with 1:47 left in the third period. But Woodhead and Wiley hooked up for a 44-yard scoring pass just two minutes later and Don Thornton's run for two points put the visitors back in the game, 45-29. With 11:29 to play, the Bears needed two touchdowns and two two-point conversions to tie the game.

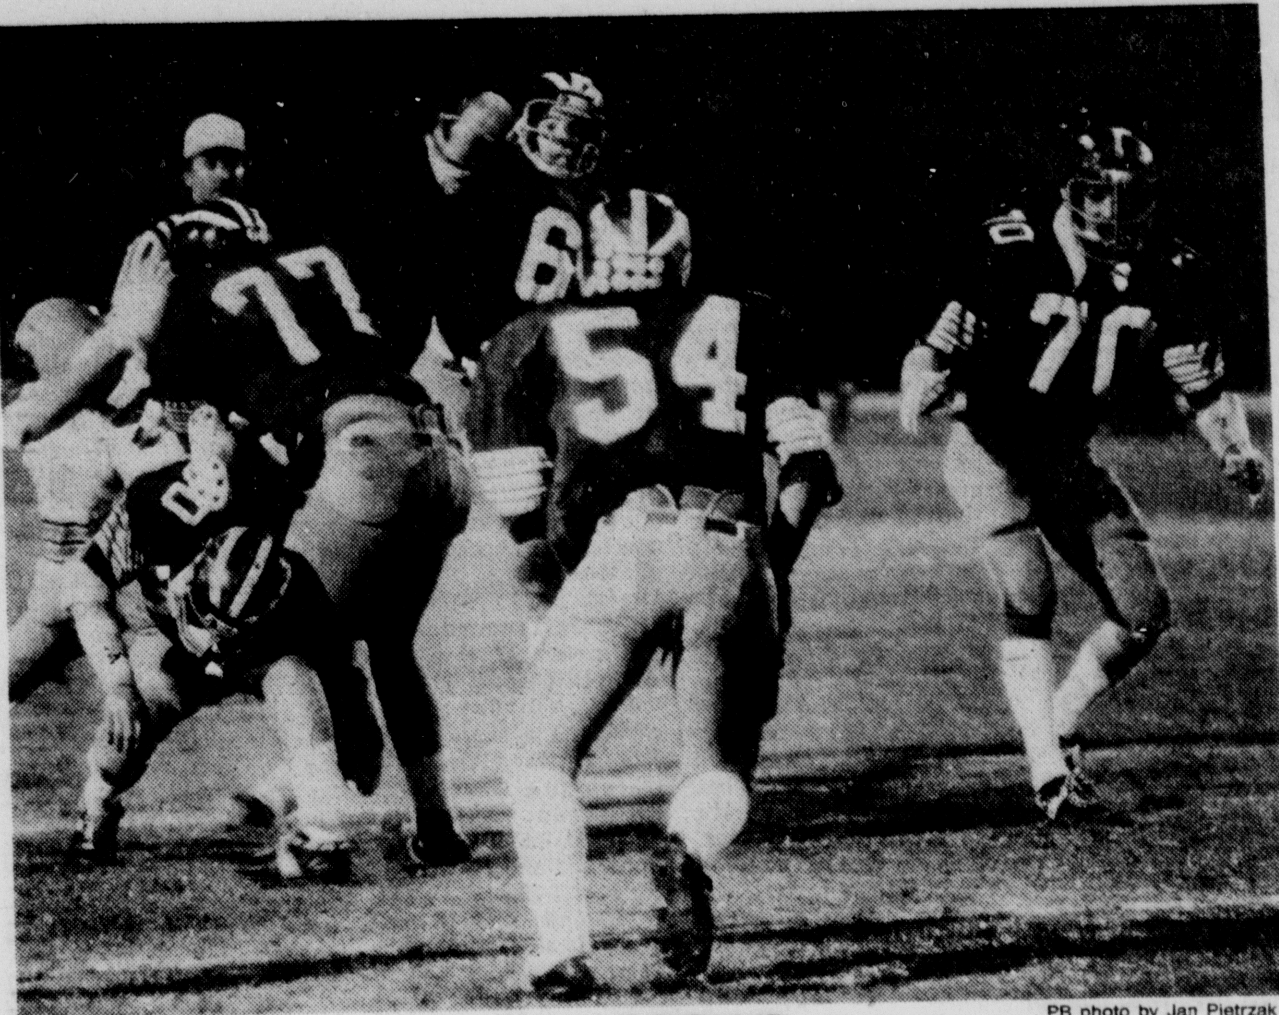

But an interception on Damien's five by Spartan linebacker Pete Huysman, a holding call against Poly that nullified an apparent touchdown and a fumble recovery by tackle Tony Cimino thwarted Poly's final three offensive series.

The two teams amassed 891 yards of total offense. Woodhead completed 10 of 18 passes for 192 yards and Corriveau, a very impressive 190-pound fullback, rushed for 145 yards on 14 carries.

Lopez caught seven passes for 119 yards of Damien's passing total and Davis nabbed five tosses for 184 yards.

Damien's previous scoring high this year was 34 against San Gabriel. The most points Poly had allowed in a game was 22 against Colton.

Saints beat Northview

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

COVINA — Coach Bob Baiz' San Dimas High team was up for its second round CIF playoff game with Northview Friday night.

When it was all over the Saints were still up on top of a 26-19 score in 2-A action at Covina District Stadium.

With the win the heavenly Saints will play Agoura, a 22-8 winner over Verbena Dei.

San Dimas built a 26-7 lead through three quarters of play and fought off a late Viking uprising that scored two fourth period touchdowns.

Northview, with momentum on its side, started its comeback attempt with 9:33 left to play as Bob Singh intercepted a Don Hargett pass on his own 21-yard line.

Three plays later Viking quarterback Keith Allen hit split end Don Lindgren sideline on a pattern, when Saint defender Fred Brubaker fell down, and raced to paydirt for a 53-yard scoring play with 8:19 left to play. On a fake kick, the conversion run failed.

With three-and-a-half minutes remaining Allen hit Joe Wheaton in the end zone for an 8-yard TD pass with the kick failing.

San Dimas got the ball back following the kick and kept possession until the clock ran out.

The Saints asserted themselves early when they scored on their first possession with 7:21 left in the initial period. Perry Aris scored on a three-yard run with Sonny LaFargue kicking the extra point.

Bob Pleasant added to the Saint lead with a four-yard run with under four minutes left in the first half. LaFargue made his first PAT attempt but it was nullified and the ball was moved back 15 yards. Kicking from the 25, his kick was wide right.

Northview scored on its first play from scrimmage following the kickoff with three minutes until intermission. Tim Carrico swept left end and was slowed to a near stop when he turned on the speed and tight-roped the sideline, romping 67 yards for a Viking TD. Bob Worman added the extra point.

Aris scored his second six-pointer with seven minutes to play in the third stanza. LaFargue booted the PAT for a 20-7 lead.

Brubaker recovered a fumble for the Saints on the kickoff when two Vikings tried to field the kick and lost control with San Dimas taking over on the Northview 23.

Three plays later Pleasant notched his second TD on a six-yard run at 4:56 of the third period with LaFargue's kick missing.

Pleasant led all rushers with 114 yards on 22 carries followed by Aris with 88 yards on 13 carries. Hargett was perfect on all four of his passes for 54 yards.

Allen hit on six-of-10 passes for 141 yards and two TDs.

Baiz was proud of the way his offense moved the ball up the middle, commenting, "We stayed inside on the run because they tried to take away our outside pitch."

San Dimas marched through the Hacienda League with a perfect 7-0 record to claim the championship. In first round action last week the Saints routed Indio 55-13 and are now 10-1 on the year.

Northview drops to 7-4 overall after sharing a co-title with Rowland High in the Montview League.

Lakers register exciting triumph

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

INGLEWOOD — The largest Laker crowd of the year, 13,580, saw the most exciting game of the season to date.

In a game that wasn't decided until Bill Walton shot and missed with five seconds left, the Lakers squeezed by the visiting Portland Trail Blazers, 99-96, Friday night at the Forum.

"That was a great ball game, an exciting ball game," exclaimed coach Jerry West jubilantly. "This team has showed it that it just won't quit."

And so it had. And it didn't.

The players never gave up when turnovers from fouls when the Lakers had the ball and that old Laker bugaboo, terrible passing, contributed to a 17-3 Portland outburst at the beginning of the second half.

That gave the Trail Blazers, who had trailed 50-49, a 13-point lead, 66-53, after 4:29 of the third quarter. West changed forwards. Kermit Washington came in for Don Ford and rookie Tom Abernathy for Cazie Russell.

By the end of the quarter, the Portland lead was cut to three, 78-75. The Lakers caught and passed the visitors on Bo Lamar's 20-foot jumper 3:09 in the final period.

The lead changed hands five more times before Lucius Allen put the Angelenos in front to stay, 94-92, on a 12-footer. But only one point separated the two after Kareem Abdul Jabbar fouled Walton and the red head sank two free throws with 45 seconds left to make it, 97-96, Lakers.

Portland coolly ran the clock down to 29 seconds when Herm Gilliam fouled Allen. The two charity tosses accounted for the final points of the game. But Portland still had a chance for a three-point play and a tie.

Gilliam shot, shot and missed, but Walton wrestled the rebound away from Jabbar. The big red head threw the ball up again but it missed and Washington grabbed the ball as the game ended.

"That was a bleep of a tough, physical, defensive game," said West.

The high-scoring 'Blazers had been averaging 116.1 points a game, highest in the NBA. In winning 10 of 14 games, they had the largest margin of victory in the league, 11.9 points a game.

Allen scored 30 points, his best output of the season. Jabbar had 32 points and 14 rebounds. Washington had 10 points and five rebounds. But Walton had 26 points, 21 rebounds, five assists and three blocked shots.

Pitt's Dorsett shatters records

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Incredible Tony Dorsett smashed college football's single-season rushing record and became the first 6,000-yard runner in history, leading top-ranked Pitt within one game of the national championship with a 24-7 victory over arch-rival Penn State Friday night.

Bottled up for most of the first half by 16th-ranked Penn State's swarming defense, the amazing Dorsett exploded for 224 yards on 38 carries, 173 yards coming in the second half, as Sugar Bowl-bound Pitt wrapped up an 11-0 regular season, its best ever.

The Panthers will meet fourth-ranked Georgia in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day. Penn State, 7-4, after having its six-game winning streak snapped, will face Notre Dame in the Gator Bowl.

Dorsett, a 5-foot-11, 192-pound senior from the nearby steel mill town of Aliquippa, Pa., added several more marks to his previous bag of nine NCAA records.

He tallied on runs of six and 40 yards to become college football's all-time scoring leader. But time ran out on his bid to reach 2,000 yards for the season. He finished with 1,944, eclipsing the mark of 1,881 set by Cornell's Ed Marinaro in 1971.

For his career, Dorsett has 6,082 yards, 905 more than the old record held by Archie Griffin of Ohio State.

Pitt needed almost every one of Dorsett's yards, which he gained through a steady drizzle, to fend off a fired-up Penn State team which had held Dorsett to 267 yards in three previous encounters.

The Nittany Lions stuck it to Dorsett good in the first period, holding him to a paltry 11 yards on seven carries. And they took a 7-0 lead with three minutes left in the period when Bob Torrey, a 236-pound sophomore fullback, pulled a swing pass from Chuck Fusina and rambled 21 yards for a touchdown.

But that was the only score Penn State could manage against Pitt's rugged defense and the momentum finally swung the Panthers' way early in the second period when J.C. Wilson intercepted a Fusina pass—one of three Penn State turnovers in the quarter—and returned it 10 yards to the Lions' 44.

Pitt, which had lost to Penn State in each of the last 10 years, tied the score midway through the second quarter. The Panthers needed only five plays to cover 41 yards, with Dorsett carrying the final six after a 26-yard pass from Matt Cavanaugh to Gordon Jones put the ball at the Penn State 13.

That was the 58th touchdown of Dorsett's career. His next one snapped a 7-7 tie late in the third period and tied the mark of 59 touchdowns set by Army's Glenn Davis during the World War II years.

The tie-breaking score was all Dorsett's work after Penn State's Scott Fitzkee punted to midfield. Dorsett ran for seven yards, then three and then burst through the middle on a nifty, 40-yard gallop that sent him over the 100-yard mark for the 33rd time in his career, matching Griffin's mark.

The two touchdowns gave Dorsett 356 points in his career, two more than Davis' old record. He hit the 6,000-yard mark on the nose with a 10-yard run on the final play of the third period and carried twice more for 23 yards to set up a 12-yard touchdown by Elliott Walker 55 seconds into the final period.

Carson Long's 47-yard field goal closed out the scoring with 3:10 remaining.

A capacity crowd of 50,350 in Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium and a national television audience saw Dorsett record the ninth 200-yard game of his brilliant career. He passed that plateau with a 42-yard dash as Pitt continuously fed him the ball in the closing minutes in an effort to boost his records as high as possible.

Despite its forthcoming trip to the Gator Bowl, Penn State's four losses are the most since the Lions went 5-5 in 1966, Joe Paterno's first season as head coach.

Kennedy nips Walnut

BARSTOW — Kennedy High of Barstow held off a late Walnut rally Friday night at Barstow High to post a 18-14 CIF playoff win over the Mustangs.

Walnut finished the year with an 8-3 record, while Kennedy is now 9-1-1 on the season and will advance to the CIF 2A quarter-finals. Kennedy will play Norte Vista of Riverside, a big 43-6 winner over Cathedral.

The Mustangs spotted the hosts an 18-0 lead after one half Friday but came roaring back in the final period to make a game of it.

Two short touchdown runs by senior halfback Kevin Morgan and a two-point PAT pass from Steve Green to Creg Fenwick made it a close 18-14 ballgame with five minutes left before a packed house at Barstow High.

The hosts then mounted a time-consuming drive over the next four minutes, but on fourth down a punt try backfired as the Kennedy hike sailed over the kicker's head and was recovered by Walnut on the Spartan 30.

With time running out, Mustang quarterback Kevin Loggins hit on two passes to move the ball to the 20, but on the next play was sacked by the Kennedy defenders as time ran out.

Both Morgan and Kennedy's star running back, Larry Jones, rushed for over 100 yards to lead both teams' offensive attacks. Jones ran for all three Spartan scores, two of them early in the contest to give Kennedy a lead it never lost.

Iowa extends Olson contract

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — The contract of Iowa basketball Coach Lute Olson has been extended two years through June 30, 1980, Athletic Director Bump Elliott said Friday.

The announcement followed action by the University's Board in Control of Athletics.

Olson will begin his third season at Iowa on Saturday night when the Hawkeyes open at Nebraska. He led the Hawkeyes to a 19-10 record last season. The 19 victories are second-best in school history.

Elliott said the contract extension reflects the confidence of the Iowa players, fans and the athletic board in Olson's coaching ability. He added the extension will serve to further stabilize the Hawkeye basketball program.

Indians' Bell signs contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — Third baseman Buddy Bell, who this past season, posted his best performance in five years of major league play, has become the first to sign a 1977 contract with the Cleveland Indians.

Indians General Manager Phil Seghi, announcing Bell's signing Tuesday, said Bell, 25, signed a multi-year contract.

Poly begins road trip

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

DAYTON, Ohio — Cal Poly begins its most ambitious basketball journey ever here tonight in one of sport's hotbeds.

Coach Don Hogan's Broncos will help the University of Dayton, a school with rich basketball tradition, open the collegiate season at 5:15 p.m. (PST) at the Flyers' 13,458-seat Arena.

Reports of tonight's game can be heard over KSOM (1510) before the game, at halftime and at approximately 7:30 p.m. following the contest.

Poly, striving to become one of the best Division II teams, is playing seven major colleges this season in an effort to gain experience against top competition besides helping the finances for the program and offering good recruiting inducements.

From here, Poly continues on to South Carolina, Notre Dame and Kansas State before returning home next Friday.

The Broncos will be battling a jinx for visiting teams here as Dayton hasn't lost a season opener since 1950.

"We're looking at these games realistically," Hogan said about the four-game trip. "I expect us to learn from the experience and we just may be able to win a game or two along the way."

Hogan brought 10 players with him including three let-termen, one redshirt, one transfer and five junior college transfers so it's a basically new look from the club which advanced to the NCAA Division II playoffs before being ousted by eventual national champion Puget Sound.

Poly will probably open with the same lineup which started Monday night in the 79-55 loss to Athletics in Action in a pre-season preview.

That will mean a starting unit of forwards Jack Gamulin (6-6) and Henry Randolph (6-4), center Don Johnson (6-11) and guards Tom Ispas (5-8) and Paten Calloway (6-3). The five reserves on the trip are Charles Johnson (6-2), Mark Bernhard (6-8), Dennis Weisse (6-5), James Webb (6-3) and Lyonel Hardin (6-7).

Webb should prove a great help. He is familiar with Dayton having played here two years ago when he was at nearby Cincinnati. Webb scored 10 points against the Flyers in his freshman season at Cincy but he left at the beginning of his sophomore year and transferred to Poly.

"It's a privilege for us to play teams like Dayton, South Carolina, Notre Dame and Kansas State," Hogan said. "We are looking forward to it."

Dayton has had some rough seasons the past two years under coach Don Donoher after enjoying a string of 26 consecutive winning seasons.

The streak ended in 1974-75 when UD suffered a 10-16 season but Donoher got the Flyers back on the winning track last year at 14-13.

In 12 seasons, Donoher has compiled a 218-116 record highlighted by six berths in the NCAA playoffs and two in the NIT including the 1968 title.

Dayton's two biggest NCAA games came against UCLA. The Flyers were the victims of Lew Alcindor and the Bruins in the 1967 national championship game and were the losers in that memorable three-overtime thriller to Bill Walton's group in the 1974 West Regionals.

Donoher's hopes for this season were hurt with the unexpected loss of guard Johnny Davis, last year's top scorer with a 21.8 average, to the Portland Trail Blazers in the hardship draft.

The Flyers will open tonight with three of last year's starters in forwards Jim Paxson (6-5) and Ervin Giddings (6-7) plus center James Wells (6-9). The starting guards figure to be sophomore Doug Harris (6-1) and freshman Jack Zimmerman (6-2). Paxson, Harris and Zimmerman were teammates on a local outstanding high school team.

BRONC BUSTERS — Poly will be seeing many airports on this trip. The traveling party of 15 left Ontario International Airport Friday morning and arrived here Friday evening via Chicago. From here, the Broncos head for Columbia, S.C. Sunday via Atlanta then comes another trip to Chicago to get to South Bend Tuesday. Coming home are stops at Chicago, Kansas City, Manhattan for Kansas State and Denver.

Assistant coach Allen Van Winkle, who arranged this trip thanks to his friendship with Donoher when he coached at Southwest Louisiana, will have a reunion with his parents and in-laws here. Van Winkle is a native of Lafayette, Ind.

Because of school being closed over the holiday weekend, Dayton won't have its normal full house. A crowd of 11,000 is expected for the season opener.

Army, Navy clash today

By The Associated Press

The dwindling college football season offers some major showdowns in the final full weekend of action.

Headlining today's schedule are the traditional showdowns between Army and Navy at Philadelphia and No. 13 Notre Dame and No. 3 Southern California at Los Angeles.

Other match-ups involving ranked teams include No. 18 Alabama vs. Auburn at Birmingham, No. 14 Oklahoma State at Texas-El Paso, Georgia Tech at No. 4 Georgia, No. 9 Texas Tech vs. Arkansas at Little Rock and No. 7 Houston at Rice.

The Army-Navy clash is the 77th renewal of the battle between the two service academies, and the Cadets will be trying to end a three-game losing streak against the Middies.

Army's offense is constructed around quarterback Leamon Hall, who has set 17 West Point records this season. Among those marks are 2,002 yards passing in 10 games and 24 interceptions.

"I'm still learning," admitted Hall, a 6-foot-5 junior. "The hardest thing, I guess, is to know when not to force it, just throw it away and come back on the next play."

Behind Hall, Army has a 4-6 record, a shade better than Navy's 3-7 log. Army leads the series 36-34, with six games ending in ties.

In today's other major games involving un-ranked teams, Holy Cross plays at Boston College; Louisville is at Cincinnati; Miami, Fla., plays Florida at Orlando; Arizona State is at Arizona; Northern Arizona plays at Fullerton State; Oregon State plays at Hawaii; Utah visits Louisiana State; New Mexico plays at San Diego State; Texas-Arlington plays at Southern Mississippi; Baylor is at Texas Christian; West Texas State plays at Tulsa, and Tennessee is at Vanderbilt.

Maryland won all six of its Atlantic Coast Conference football games in 1974 and finished with an 8-4 over-all record.

USC loves N.D. game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Getting his team emotionally ready to play Notre Dame may be the only thing on the mind of Southern California football Coach John Robinson this week after the Trojans won their biggest game of the year.

One week ago, Robinson's third-ranked USC crew scored a mild upset over second-rated UCLA, 24-14, and with the conquest earned the right to play in the Rose Bowl.

But between now and the Jan. 1 bowl, the Fighting Irish come to town for a regular season-ending game which had Robinson recalling history.

"Think of the tradition, the history of the USC-Notre Dame games," Robinson said. "Think of some of the classic games they've played, some of the names in the games, some of the best players in history."

Perhaps Robinson was simply trying to think of good, solid reasons his team should be mentally ready to play 13th-rated Notre Dame. Another reason is that the game is to be nationally televised.

(Channel 7 1 p.m.)

"I just can't wait for Saturday's game," said USC's star linebacker Rod Martin. "It's on national TV and we want people to see how well we play together."

The Trojans-Irish clash is always a bell-ringer, and this year it's more so since USC tailback Ricky Bell leads USC. He's the nation's third leading ball carrier, despite a sprained ankle that cost him one full game and limited appearances in three others.

Robinson said, "The Notre Dame-USC series is the best intersectional rivalry in college football. Our players love to play in big games, and this is always one" — especially since USC is eying a national championship. Robinson will have to beat Notre Dame Coach Dan Devine if he wants to stay in the running for No. 1.

Bell and quarterback Vince Evans provide the bulk of the offense for the Trojans. Notre Dame counts on halfback Al Hunter and quarterback Rick Slager.

Bell ran for 167 yards on 36 carries against UCLA and he has averaged 149 yards per game on the ground this year. Evans' passing has produced 75 completions in 143 attempts for 1,153 yards and nine touchdowns. The senior quarterback has also drawn Robinson's praise for the way he has directed the team en route to a 9-1 record.

Hunter, a junior, has been the workhorse for the Irish in their 8-2 season. He has set a new single-season record for the school with 943 yards.

USC remembers him for his 52-yard touchdown run on the second play of last fall's 24-17 USC victory in South Bend.

Slager, a senior and the regular Irish quarterback, has been nursing a bruised shoulder and is a question mark today. He sat out last week's 40-12 romp over Miami. He has thrown for 1,249 yards and 11 touchdowns this season.

Rusty Lisch, a 6-foot-4 sophomore, ran for two scores and threw a 42-yard pass for another filling in for Slager against Miami.

USC has the edge in the series in recent years with a 61-2 mark, but the Irish still lead the all-time series with a 26-174 record.

MSAC tilts on radio

All Mt. San Antonio College basketball games this season will be broadcast on KSAK Radio, the school's radio station.

First broadcast is slated for Dec. 31, when the Mounties host San Bernardino Valley College. Dave Rivele and Pat Hopkins will handle the play-by-play.

KSAC is located at 90.1 on the FM dial. Broadcasts will begin at 7:30 p.m.

'Hens, Stags on road for basketball openers

Both Pomona-Pitzer and Claremont-Mudd are on the road for their basketball openers tonight.

The Sagehens are at LIFE Bible College while the Stags play Azusa Pacific at APC. Both games are slated for 8 p.m. starts.

Nine lettermen including four starters return for 'Hens. This has made coach Les Nagler very happy.

"This is the first time in many years where I have felt we are going into the season with adequate strength and depth on the bench," commented Nagler. "We have a lot of people who are good basketball players."

"Our four returning starters have already played three years of varsity ball each. That's a wealth of experience for us."

Forwards Brandon Boyd (6-2) and Bob Hoehn (6-5) along with guards Scott Pease (5-10) and Steve Pinkston (6-1) are starting their fourth year of varsity ball. The fifth starter, center Ed McFadden (6-9), is a sophomore who started as a freshman last year.

The other four letterman are forwards Tom Fink (6-4), a junior, and senior Robert Davis (6-1) and guards Herb Taylor and Bob Mendez.

Leading newcomers are Roger Washington, Larry Croner, and Jay Cornish.

Washington is a six-foot senior guard. Croner is a 6-2 sophomore swingman. Washington transferred from Dennison University.

Cornish (6-3) is the only freshman on the squad. "Jay is an outstanding prospect," said Nagler.

There are also five players up from the jayvees.

The Sagehens wound up 7-16 overall last year and were 4-8 in the SCAC. They'll play their home opener Monday night against Hastings College of Nebraska. (8 p.m.)

C-M is coming off a disappointing 4-21 season (2-10 in conference play) last year.

Regulars back from last year's squad are junior forwards Stu DuVall (6-5) and Ron Kasdorf (6-4). Seniors Bob Smith (6-2) and Johnny Daniels (5-6) and junior Mark Sunderland (6-2) are back at guard.

DuVall played center last year. This year Frank Tyler (6-8) will start the season there.

Backing up the starters are juniors Rich Roth and Matt McClelland, each 6-4, and sophomores Dan Butterfield (6-3) and Dale Yahnke (5-9) plus freshmen Dennis Christopher (6-1) and John Spinosa (6-5).

"We don't have a lot of height," said coach Dave Wells. "Because of that we're going to have to be smart, hustle, and play team-oriented basketball. I think we have the people who can do the job."

The Stags will play their annual Alumni game Monday then go back on the road for the Redlands Tournament opening next Thursday. First home game of the regular season is against Cal Baptist, Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Recreation Dept. offers cage loops

The Pomona Park and Recreation Department is offering Winter Adult, Senior High and Youth Basketball programs.

An organizational meeting for the Senior High League will be held Tuesday in the Emerson Junior High auditorium at 7:30 p.m. The program is open to organization-sponsored teams such as churches, schools, clubs, etc. Entry fee per team is $60.00 with an additional $8.00 needed for players' medical insurance.

Deadline for entry is Dec. 15 (4 p.m.) at the Recreation office in City Hall. Entry fee is $15.00. A coaches meeting will be held Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Emerson Junior High cafeteria.

Prelim time for preps in CIF cross country

Representatives of seven local high schools will compete today in the CIF cross country prelims for boys and girls at Mt. San Antonio College.

In boys' competition, Upland, Claremont, Chaffey, Walnut and Alta Loma will all send full seven-member contingents into today's action by virtue of placing either first or second in their leagues. In addition, San Dimas' Perry LaMont will compete for an individual medal on the basis of his third-place finish in the Hacienda League meet.

Claremont is the only local school to have an entire team entered in the girls' prelims, but Ontario Christian's Gerri Bortie and Laura Engleson will run as individuals.

Today's action, which begins at 10 a.m., will include two heats for each of the four boys' divisions (4A through 1A) and three heats for girls. The top five teams in each heat, and the top five individuals, will advance to next week's finals at MSAC.

San Antonio League champion Upland will be represented by Roger Innes, Mark and Mike Trilevsky, sophomore Gary Borbon, Keith Van Lieu, Dan Domonoske and sophomore Scott Sager. Claremont will be represented in boys' competition by sophomores Locke Breaux and George Waters, Scott Relf, Dennis McCutcheon, Mark Alba, David Ramaley and sophomore Chris Johnson.

In the girls' division, Cherry Henry, Maureen Young, Susan Atencio, Martha Brownlee, Laurie Tanenbaum, Jill Williams and Jennifer Munson will run for Claremont. They won the 3A title recently at the Southern California Girls' Cross Country Championships at Nordhoff High in Ojai.

Chaffey's 4A heat will begin at 10 a.m., with Claremont and Upland going in 3A heats at 10:40 and 11 a.m. respectively. Alta Loma and LaMont will run in one 2A meet at 12:20 p.m. and Walnut will go in another at 12:40. Claremont's girls and Bortie will run at 11:20 and Engleson will go at 11:40 a.m.

Alaskans rebuild cathedral

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — Shafts of sunlight broke through the mist, illuminating swirling clouds of incense as the first Russian Orthodox cathedral in North America was reconsecrated.

To many of the 300 members of St. Michael's Cathedral, it seemed like a miracle.

The church had been destroyed by fire on Jan. 2, 1966, when flames swept the business district of this Southeast Alaska community.

Members of the congregation had risked their lives to save most of the glittering icons and other relics of czarist Russia which decorated the cathedral.

But strong winds, inadequate firefighting equipment and bitter cold contributed to the destruction of the building, then 118 years old and a national historic site.

The congregation of 300, many of them Indians whose ancestors had been converted to Christianity, decided to rebuild, but first they had to get money. So far they've raised $600,000.

"It was like something was missing from the lives of the people," said Bishop Gregory of Sitka and all Alaska.

The new building is a near replica of the original, which was built in 1848 by the "apostle of Alaska," Bishop Innocent. The clock he built himself is missing, however, and there's another change: the reconstruction materials are fire resistant.

But the icons are back, including the famous Sitka Madonna, painted by Vladimir Borovikovsky for Catherine the Great and claimed to have miraculous powers.

Russian-born architect Sergey Padukow worked from documents prepared by the National Park Service when the building was designated a historic site.

The 97-by-68 foot cathedral was crowded Sunday as Bishop Theodosius of Pittsburgh and West Virginia presided over the consecration ceremony. He had served in Alaska from 1967 to 1971.

"I wouldn't have missed it," he said after the 4½-hour service.

Parishioners, well-wishers and church officials — including Archbishop Francis Hurley of the Anchorage Catholic diocese — came to Sitka from points throughout Alaska and the continental U.S.

"It's a miracle of the 20th Century," said Bishop Gregory, who was born in Kiev, U.S.S.R. "Not only for Alaska, and not only for the Orthodox church. The donations for rebuilding came as $5, $10, whatever people could spare."

The important thing "was to keep the spirit of working together," Bishop Gregory said.

The fundraising drive was spearheaded by the Sitka Historical Sites Restoration Committee.

Bethany Baptist Church

"Sight and Sound" is the title of a special musical program to be presented by Jean H. Hancock of the Children Baptist Home of Southern California on Saturday Dec. 4, at 10 a.m. The event will be hosted by the American Baptist Women of Bethany Baptist Church, Montclair.

For the church congregation, a Christmas brunch will be served in the Fellowship Hall at 9:30 a.m. preceding the program to be held in the sanctuary. There will be child care for pre-schoolers.

Christ Lutheran Church

An election of new officers was held last Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church in Chino.

Elected as president was Dick Lederman of Chino. Other officers are Paul Martin of Alta Loma, George Klotz and Ron Swope, both of Montclair, Hope Pick, Marge Estenson and Chips Banks, all of Chino, and Reno Gazzola of Cucamonga.

Adopted also at the meeting was the budget for 1977 which provides for the possible construction of additional Christian education facilities.

First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Claremont will inaugurate the Advent season with the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" in the sanctuary at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Each church school class will participate in the ceremony.

The Rev. Frank McCullough, pastor, will be the guest speaker at Mt. San Antonio Gardens' Vesper Service, 4 p.m. Sunday.

Temple Shalom of Ontario

Temple Shalom in Ontario will hold the concluding lecture in the present series Sunday, Dec. 5, 10:30 a.m. with Michael Stern, a Harvey Mudd College faculty member, as the guest speaker.

His subject will be, "Herzog by Saul Bellow, the 1976 recipient of the Nobel Prize in Literature." A coffee-tea social hour will precede the lecture which is open and free to the public.

Catholics may accept credo

GENEVA, Switz. (AP) — Roman Catholicism is giving serious consideration to accepting the Augsburg Confession of 1530, a founding credo of Lutheranism, as a valid statement of Christian truth, a Lutheran leader reported here.

At the same time, two noted Roman Catholic theologians in Germany have revived proposals that the Vatican lift the 450-year-old ban of ex-communication against the 16th century reformer, Martin Luther.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Martensen, an official of the Lutheran World

Federation, returning to Geneva from a visit to the Vatican, said that the question of it affirming the Augsburg Confession is under active discussion in the Vatican Christian Unity Secretariat.

Meanwhile, in an international Catholic theological journal, Concilium, two noted Catholic theologians, the Rev. Drs. Hans Kung and Walter Kasper of Tuebingen University expressed hope that "Rome may at last pronounce the word of 'reconciliation' by lifting the ban on Luther."

HUAC official to discuss how Jews will fare under Carter

The vice president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations will discuss the forthcoming Carter era and its implications for Jews Dec. 6 in the McAlister Center of the Claremont Colleges.

Albert Vorspan, who is also co-director of the Commission on Social Action of Judaism, will give his thoughts on Reform what the presidency of Jimmy Carter will mean to the Jews of America.

His visit to the valley is part of a series of programs offered by Temple Beth Israel in Pomona and the Hillel Foundation of the Claremont Colleges.

The program includes four other speakers:

Gerald Bubis, director of the School of Jewish Communal Service at Hebrew Union College, will speak Jan. 25 at the temple.

Rabbi Laura Geller, director of Hillel at USC, will talk Feb. 22 at McAlister Center.

Rabbi Maurice Lamm, dean of the Rabbim Torah Institute, will lecture March 22 at the temple.

Rabbi Richard N. Levy, executive director of the Los Angeles Hillel Council, will speak April 26 at Temple Beth Israel.

Theme of the series is "Jewish Voices in Search." Those who want more information may call Temple Beth Israel, 626-1277.

Businessmen's group to hear crash victim

Bengt Junvik of Arcadia, president of Timca, Inc., will be speaker at the Ontario-Upland Christian Businessmen's Committee "Ladies Night" banquet Dec. 2 at the Arbor Restaurant in Upland.

Junvik will relate how he survived several days in heavy snow after his light plane crashed in 1972 in Alaska. He was delivering a plane from Southern California to Alaska when a storm came up suddenly and a down draft caused the aircraft to crash land.

Hearing of the missing pilot, a former Upland resident, Henry M. Hanson, hired a helicopter at his own expense. After many unsuccessful trips, the Junvik plane was spotted and the pilot rescued.

Persons wanting reservations to the program may contact Don Riffe, committee chairman, at 984-2745, or Walter Rieder, 982-0660.

Southern Baptists

Segregation still practiced

NEW YORK (AP) — Independence is a watchword of the Southern Baptist churches — a principle that was behind the struggle over admission of blacks at President-elect Jimmy Carter's home church in Plains, Ga.

Although the denomination's national convention repeatedly has condemned racial discrimination and segregation, the national body has no authority over its local churches — 34,901 of them throughout the country.

They're completely autonomous, setting their own rules and policies, picking their own ministers, deciding on who is eligible for membership, admitting them by a congregational show of hands.

Just as many of those individual congregations have modified their positions in recent years to allow blacks to become members, the church in Plains last Sunday took that step.

It had long been advocated by Carter and his family, who 12 years ago had been virtually alone in taking that stand. Most members, however, held out against it until the change came under the spotlight of national attention.

Although a big proportion of Southern Baptist congregations now have open-door policies, most of them remain solidly white, as do many congregations in other major, predominantly white denominations.

In the recent past, the common worship time of 11 o'clock Sunday morning had been called the "most segregated hour" in America, and it still is extensively that way in fact but not in policy, despite continuing efforts to rectify the pattern.

Some Southern Baptist congregations "regretably follow a closed-door policy," says the denomination's president, the Rev. Dr. James L. Sullivan of Nashville, Tenn., but many others are "completely integrated."

Church historian Leon McBeth says statements by Southern Baptist leaders indicate a "new day" and "new attitude" in accepting minority races, but "our actions have never matched our rhetoric."

McBeth, of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas, says the denomination has made "significant progress in race relations," but "racism still is prevalent among us."

Since the national convention and agencies are "officially committed to equality," he says, "it gives some hope that we may gradually begin to practice what we have in the past quarter century at least begun to preach."

Nevertheless, under the Baptist system, no denominational authority can prescribe congregational conduct, nor do the denomination, a congregation or pastor have authority over the religious views of an individual member.

Self-determination is the distinctive tenet, with each person free to interpret Scripture according to his own mind and conscience. Baptists insist on individual independence in beliefs.

While this makes for many differences, the common bond is acknowledgement of Jesus as Lord and the New Testament as the guide to faith and practice.

The 12.7 million Southern Baptists, largest Protestant body in the country, now include about 75,000 blacks, less than half of one per cent, a sprinkling in some congregations, none in others. About 190 mostly black congregations are affiliated with the denomination.

Compared with Southern Baptists, most other major mainly white denominations have a somewhat larger proportion of black members, including another mostly Southern body, the Presbyterian Church U.S., about 6,000 of whose 900,000 members are black, almost one per cent.

The 10.1 million United Methodists, spread almost equally north and south, includes 353,000 blacks, slightly more than 3 per cent. The 48.5 million Roman Catholics include 885,000 blacks, not quite 2 per cent.

Blacks, who make up about 10 per cent of the nation's population, are mostly in predominantly black denominations.

PUBLIC NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 2801
AN EMERGENCY ORDINANCE OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF POMONA, CALIF., EXTENDING THE MORATORIUM PERIOD OF ORDINANCE NO. 2784 AND ORDINANCE NO. 2801 FOR AN ADDITIONAL FOUR MONTHS.

WHEREAS, the Council for the City of Pomona, California, has determined that the City of Pomona is not the appropriate zoning district to place adult theaters and bookstores; and

WHEREAS, the Council has directed the City Clerk and the City Attorney to re-study their recommendation as to where such uses should be placed in the City of Pomona;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF POMONA, CALIFORNIA, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That the moratorium placed upon the usual zoning uses, described in Ordinance 2784 and 2801 shall be continued for an additional four months beginning November 19, 1976, and ending February 18, 1977, and other respects the provisions of Ordinance 2784 and 2801 shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 2. Pursuant to Section 510 of the Charter of the City of Pomona, this Ordinance is declared to be an emergency ordinance for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety of the City of Pomona because of proliferation of schools of physical contact activities, talk and adult motion picture theaters, adult mini-motion picture theaters, and adult entertainment establishments and similar uses of land would not be beneficial, unless properly regulated and assigned to certain zoning districts of the City not yet known until the above study is made.

SECTION 3. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage and adoption of this Ordinance, causing it to be published as required by law, and it shall be in full force and effect.

APPROVED, PASSED AND ADOPTED this 15th day of November, 1976, as an Emergency Ordinance.

Astrographs

By Bernice Bede Osol
For Sunday, Nov. 28, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be difficult to reach today because you're not apt to tell others what's on your mind. Open up. Let your hair down.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't make mountains out of molehills today. You're a bit too sensitive and you're prone to treat minor infractions too seriously.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A wise man once said, "It isn't whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." A good thing for you to recall today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Others are likely to find fault with your views today because of the way you plead your case. Don't be apologetic if trying to sell bold daring ideas.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Mixing business and pleasure is an elixir that will turn bitter in the glass. Put aside the pursuit of profit. Just have some fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're not very cooperative today, particularly with those you care the most for. Oddly enough, you'll feel their requests infringe upon your time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Concentrate on what you do today, especially if working with sharp tools. You must be extra safety conscious.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The long shot may be more appealing to you today than the sure thing. Realistically this will only get you a bunch of losing tickets.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have a low boiling point today. Laugh off the trivial like you usually do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Instead of looking for hidden meanings, take peoples' actions more at face value. You're reading more into them than is really there.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Leave your credit cards at home today if you'll be out with high rollers, or you'll wind up in the deficit column.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll feel uncomfortable among aggressive people today. Seek the company of friends who have no axes to grind.

Your Birthday, Nov. 28, 1976

Some basic changes in your life style are in the offing for you this year. Some of them may be unsolicited on your part, but they will be beneficial.

Less radiation in breast X-rays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breast X-ray machines in cancer detection centers across the country have been adjusted to avoid excessive radiation criticized by a Ralph Nader organization, the government said Friday.

Dr. Theodore Cooper, assistant secretary at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said all 57 machines at the 21 detection centers sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society have been reexamined and adjusted when necessary.

"We are pleased to report that the radiation exposures from all machines in use at all screening centers is now below a skin surface dose of 2.5 roentgens per view," he wrote Dr. Sidney M. Wolfe, director of the Nader-affiliated Health Research Group.

Cooper, using Wolfe's formula, said this reduces

Early city

Scotland had "sky-scrapers" more than 300 years ago, according to National Geographic. Before Edinburgh expanded in 1767, the city had become so crowded some buildings were built from 10 to 14 stories high.

radiation dose on breast tissue to approximately one rad for two X-ray views. A roentgen is a unit of emitted radiation. A rad is a unit of absorbed radiation dose.

Citing a National Cancer Institute survey completed last June, obtained under the Freedom of Information Act, Wolfe had complained earlier this month that 16 of the devices, called mammography machines, at 11 detection centers were exposing women to excessive radiation.

The machines were in Providence, R.I.; Newark, N.J.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Boise, Idaho; Washington, D.C.; New York City; Los Angeles; Atlanta; Louisville, Ky.; Columbia, Mo.; and Honolulu.

Cooper also pledged to have a new statement ready by early December to inform women about the remaining potential radiation risk and a new policy recommending against mammography for healthy women under 50 who have no personal or family history of cancer.

He said the experiences of 270,000 women who have participated in the government's five-year mammography program will be followed another five years regardless of their age and whether they continue mammography.

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — She sits there in a rocking chair in the old railroad depot every afternoon, holding court for the tourists who walk in for an audience with the mother of the next president.

Every weekday Mrs. James Earl Carter, better known as "Miss Lillian," drives from her nearby home and takes her post in the old Seaboard Coast Line station to chat with tourists, sign autographs, smile and pose for pictures.

And each afternoon hundreds of visitors wander through the once abandoned depot, buying souvenirs and saying hello to the president-elect's 78-year-old mother.

"How's everybody?" she asked the other day as she walked into the depot, which was the Plains headquarters for the Carter campaign. But she added a quick warning: "Don't shake my hand and don't touch me. I'm sore from head to foot."

Miss Lillian suffers from arthritis and she refuses to shake hands, explained a friend, Allie Mae Cornwell. Her brief conversations with the tourists are peppery. When someone admired a painting of her son on display near her rocking chair she commented, "I don't like that picture. He looks too old."

"Well," said a friend, "he is 52."

"He looks like he's 62," Miss Lillian complained.

"He looks like he's thinking," the friend offered.

"He shouldn't think," the President-elect's mother retorted.

Occasionally, she introduces herself as "Jimmy's momma."

But she needs no introduction. Several tourists told the white-haired woman, who was wearing a sporty green pants suit, "You look just like you did on television."

Many of the visitors come from the South or are older persons driving from the Northeast to Florida for the winter. Plains is about 45 miles from Interstate 75, a principal north-south route.

The visitors occasionally say they met Miss Lillian somewhere before, and if she doesn't remember them she does not hesitate to say so.

Claremont Presbyterian

An advent festival, "Christmas Around the World," will be celebrated Sunday at 5 p.m. at the Claremont Presbyterian Church.

A potluck supper featuring dishes from nations around the world will be followed by an advent worship service. Workshops featuring crafts and activities representative of many countries will include making advent calendars, decorating cookies, making Christmas gifts, and folk dancing.

The program will conclude with children breaking a pinata.

Covenant United Methodist

The Rev. Q. E. Hendricks, interim minister at the Covenant United Methodist Church in Pomona, will conduct a public healing service Sunday at 7 p.m. at the church.

In 1969, Mr. Hendricks was appointed by the presiding bishop of the Pacific and Southwest Area of United Methodist Church, to give special emphasis to the healing ministry.

Immigration

The peak year for immigration into the United States was 1907, when 1.3 million immigrants came to the country.

FBI agents wound their own men in halting bank holdup

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents hit at least two and perhaps three fellow agents with shotgun fire during a stakeout that thwarted an attempted bank robbery in New Jersey, the FBI said today. But a spokesman said they might not have been direct hits.

"Whether the pellets were ricochets or not, well, we don't know," the spokesman said.

One man was shot dead at the wheel of what the FBI said was the intended getaway car during an attempted robbery last Friday at the Wood Ridge National Bank in Wood Ridge, 10 miles north of Newark.

A second man was wounded by gunfire, the FBI said, and one man was arrested and held on $500,000 bond on a bank robbery charge.

Three agents were wounded in the shooting, the agency spokesman said. But he added that "it has not been fully determined" if one agent's wounds were caused by pellets from an FBI shotgun or by glass from a window in the bank door.

The three agents, all attached to the Newark FBI office, were hospitalized in nearby Hackensack Hospital in good condition, the spokesman said. The fourth man wounded at the scene was in serious condition at the same hospital.

The spokesman said the FBI was making an investigation into the incident. He called that "normal when a shooting occurs."

An FBI statement gave this account of the incident:

"All agents involved in the stakeout were in position when the suspected bank robbers arrived on the scene. The driver of the intended getaway car, Franklin Vuono, fired the first shot when agents across from the bank identified themselves and instructed Vuono to surrender."

"Agents across from the bank responded to Vuono's shot by shooting back at him. When the shooting commenced, one agent ... inside the bank behind the teller's counter and protected from the shooting itself went to the front door of the bank to render assistance to agents outside, thinking that the bank robbers would escape."

"At this point he was struck by pellets from shotguns fired by agents shooting at the bank robbers. Preliminary investigation reveals that shotgun pellets may have ricocheted off ... the street under the bank robbers' car and through the door of the bank."

"After this agent was wounded, three others left their cover to go to the wounded agent's aid, and at least one of them was struck by shotgun pellets. It has not been fully determined if another agent's wounds were caused by shotgun pellets or broken glass."

The FBI spokesman said that the shotgun pellets, in any case, came from guns fired by other agents. The agents were dispatched to the bank reportedly on a tip from an informer, the New York Times said.

When three men drove up in a car supplied to them by the FBI through the informer, the agents inside had cleared the floor of most of the staff and customers and had locked the inner doors, the Times said.

While one of the men waited at the wheel of the car, the other two wearing workmen's clothes, gloves and masks and carrying drawn pistols started into the bank only to find the inner doors barred.

Bligh's log brings $90,730 at auction

LONDON (AP) — A small, water-stained notebook used by Capt. William Bligh as a log after his mutinying crew of HMS Bounty had cast him adrift in a rowboat, was sold in just 55 seconds for $90,730 at a Christie's auction.

The leather-bound book, in which Bligh noted down every incident in his six-week, 3,500 mile voyage in the Bounty's launch with a handful of companions, was bought by Maggs, the London firm of booksellers who refused to say for whom they were acting.

Apart from navigational calculations, Bligh had jotted down rough sketches of some South Sea islands showing his boat's route through the Barrier Reef and along the coast of Australia to safety in Timor.

Bligh also set down some of his thoughts and fears during the voyage. "We now anxiously pray to make land ... no sight of it," he wrote just before reaching Timor. And "kind Providence protects us wonderfully, but it is a most unhappy situation to be in a boat among such discontented people who don't know what to be at or what is best for them," he wrote on another occasion.

Man with ax killed by police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A man who smashed through a wall and 18 storefront windows with a flag-draped ax was shot and killed Friday after advancing on police with the weapon, officers said.

Two officers said the man smashed windows along Hollywood Boulevard with the ax, its handle wrapped with an American flag, then advanced on them despite warnings to halt.

Officer Gary Kirkpatrick, 29, killed the man with a single shotgun blast, said Lt. Charles Higbie.

Wax Museum will expand... Story on pages 4-5

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

Sixty-eight years ago Pomonans could purchase a "Cadillac Thirty" — a 5 passenger, 30 horsepower, 4 cylinder touring car — from Osler and Matthews, 234-242 West Third street, for $1,550. But if that was a bit more money than many of them could afford, they could always settle for a Reo Runabout. H.D. Blanchard was selling that little beauty those days for only $550. However, for early day Pomonans who were in the chips and really wanted to hear the natives ohing and ahing in envy, Mr. Blanchard was also ready to wheel and deal on a 4 cylinder, 40 horsepower Kissel Kar, the status symbol supreme, the asking price for which was $2,150.

And now, if those early Twentieth Century automobile prices have you drooling, here's a story which appeared in The Pomona Progress on October 15, 1908, that will probably drive you right up the wall in envy and amazement.

"A Ford auto left in front of the Christian Church was started by boys who then turned it loose to run 300 feet until it struck a telephone pole and curb at the South-East corner of Center and Main streets," the report stated. "The car's lights were broken off, the radiator broken and bent, the front axle twisted and broken apart from the rest of the body, and one tire was torn." Then came a statement that will undoubtedly spoil the rest of the day for all 1976 car owners. — "THE REPAIRS WILL COST BETWEEN $40 AND $50," it read.

Hutch table dual purpose

By Dorothy Hammond

QUESTION: We would appreciate knowing the approximate age for this very old pine hutch table we recently purchased and refinished. It stands 27 inches high, and its top measures 38 inches wide and 4½ feet long. Mrs. T.B.S.

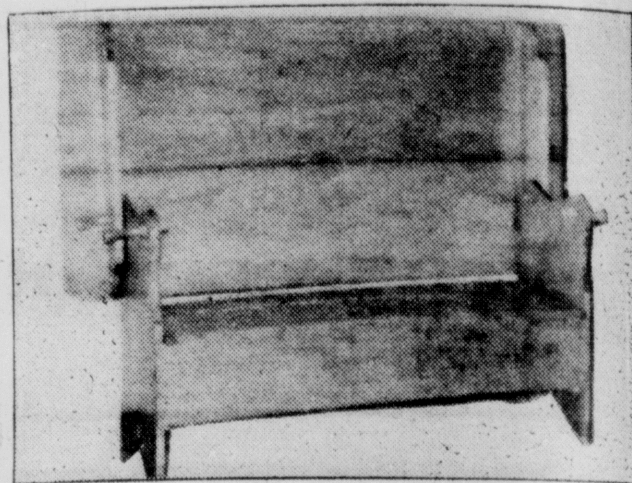

ANSWER: The name "hutch table" refers to a dual-purpose table that became popular during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. And the fact that later examples were still being made well into the third quarter of the last century, it is oftentimes difficult to date. The best indications of age are found in the construction and the shape of the leg or base.

QUESTION: I would like to know the value of a beautiful bay horse fur hide robe, lined with black wool with scalloped edges in black and gold. This robe has been carefully cared for — and when not in use has been kept in moth crystals. The fur is shiny with every hair intact. The robe is 60 years old. B.B.

ANSWER: It is unusual to find an old robe in such fine condition. In your region (north), such examples oftentimes sell as high as $100, and more, as there are few available for today's collector.

QUESTION: The enclosure shows a pair of six inch vases given to me many years ago by an elderly friend. She told me that these were "peach blow" glass vases, very old and valuable. As you can see from my picture, they shade from deep rose at the top to white at bottom. I am 80 years old and am giving many of my treasures to relatives and friends. Before parting with these vases, I so wish you could give me an estimate of their value. I have no idea. S.K.S.

ANSWER: You have a matched pair of New England Peach Blow stick vases, and if perfect their value is around the $400 each.

QUESTION: Here in the midwest there seems to be an awfully lot of interest in the old kitchen utensils that were made from the turn of the century, to about 1940. Have any books been written in recent years giving prices or showing photos of these items such as the interesting old egg beaters, can openers, coffee percolators, etc.? Mrs. F.R.

ANSWER: The most recent reference material published in this field was written by Linda Campbell Franklin — From Hearth to Cookstove, published by House of Collectibles, Helton Drive at Rasch Road, Florence, Alabama ($12.50). The author describes literally hundreds of the many implements, gadgets and utensils used by Americans from 1700 to 1930, with a heavy concentration on the latter group. There are 1,155 illustrations and a price guide is included.

CHESS LORE

The U.S. has narrowly won the 1976 World Chess Olympics in Haifa, Israel. A half-point behind in 2nd place was the Netherlands.

Though the boycott by Arab and socialist countries cost the Olympics many of the world's strongest players, the American team gained respect with its last minute come-from-behind victory.

Unfortunately, the drastic split in the world chess community represented by the boycott was further exacerbated, when a congress of those nations present passed resolutions (many controversial) which were technically binding on the boycotting members.

A most divisive decision was made, for example, to reinstate South Africa as an Olympic participant.

Substantial goodwill and diplomacy will be needed to heal the regrettable breaches in world chess created by events in Haifa.

IMPLACABLE AGGRESSOR

Slack master Orest Popovych is a "match for anyone in the uncompromising aggression department" according to tournament director Bill Goichberg.

In the game below from the 1976 U.S. open Championship, Popovych, a Brooklyn College chemistry professor tries his favorite din's gambit. With a series of no-nonsense moves he demolishes his opponent.

In the final position, Slack cannot defend against the double threat of 22. QxR and 22. QR-R1 followed by 23. RXPch.

Movieland Wax Museum embarks on $1 million expansion

Charlton Heston spills rival chariot in museum's wax recreation of scene from "Ben Hur."

Movieland Wax Museum and Palace of Living Art, entertainment and cultural center in Buena Park, this month embarks on a $1 million expansion program that will add a 15,000-square-foot plaza with a small outdoor amphitheater, an expansion of the present Movieland building and a single-story addition to the main building.

The combined wax museum and art gallery passed one million in attendance this year.

"This will be Movieland's most significant addition since 1966 when the Palace of Living Art was installed," said general manager Leslie C. Bruce Jr.

The expansion of the outdoor plaza by the Palace of Living Art is expected to be finished by June. A feature will be the small, bowl-type stage designed for a variety of programs and presentations. The plaza will also have a large fountain, food and beverage services, dining patios and shaded benches.

The 5,000-square-foot addition to the Movieland building will provide room for a substantial number of new television and motion picture sets to be added during the next two years.

The single-story addition on the corner of the present building will add 3,000 square feet for employee facilities, locker rooms and administrative offices.

Movieland Wax Museum was opened May 4, 1962, by Mary Pickford, "America's sweetheart," who said, "Dedicated this day to the artists of the entertainment industry who, through their talents and efforts, have contributed so much to the enjoyment and understanding of the peoples of the world." Since that opening with a small group of wax figures of motion picture stars, the museum has grown to include more than 230 figures in 79 authentically duplicated scenes from the movies.

Many Hollywood stars have visited the museum over the years to pose for their wax replicas and to tour the sets. Some have donated the costumes worn in the scene to be recreated. More than a decade ago Gloria Swanson placed a good luck carnation in her counterpart's hand. Each day since then the carnation has been replaced and the previous one given to a Movieland guest.

When Gina Lollobrigida saw her effigy at Movieland, she tugged down the black slip she

ON THE COVER

The Movieland Wax Museum and Palace of Living Art this month launched a $1 million expansion program that will enlarge the patio and add space for additional television and movie sets and wax figures. Below is an architect's sketch of the expanded plaza. At top, right, Jack Haley visits his wax image of the Tin Woodman in "The Wizard of Oz." wore in "Flesh and the Woman" saying that it "showed too much Gina." Boris Karloff referred to his Frankenstein monster as "my best friend and benefactor." Vincent Price "stood in" for his figure in "The House of Wax" set and took delight in suddenly leaping out to startle unsuspecting passersby.

In 1966 the Palace of Living Art was opened. It contains 25 of the world's great sculptures and painting recreated in three-dimensional settings with life-sized wax figures. One of the representations shows Leonardo da Vinci painting his immortal "Mona Lisa."

The life-sized sculpture of Lincoln is a scaled-down wax replica of the Georgia marble original by Daniel Chester French which is enshrined in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. The face of the wax figure was taken from a life mask of Lincoln and the hands were reproduced from molds of his hands.

The Palace of Living Art also boasts numerous masterpieces carved in Carrara marble. Exact copies of David and the Pieta were crafted from flawless pieces of marble taken from Michelangelo's own quarry near Pietrasanta, Italy, where the original stones were cut.

Most of the work on the expansion of the Movieland Wax Museum and Palace of Living Art is expected to be completed by June. Meanwhile the center continues in operation during construction. The hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and to 11 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Grant Wood's "American Gothic" is a popular attraction at the Place of Living Art.

Grotto serves all Christian faiths

The Grotto, specializing in religious articles and gifts, is a business of service.

Mike and Jean Jackman are beginning their eighth year of operation in the family business and both feel they have met the original objective of opening the store at 1681 N. Indian Hill Blvd., Pomona.

"The point of why we opened the store was to serve all of the Christian faiths and have a shop where everyone could feel comfortable coming to. It's privately owned rather than church sponsored and therefore does not cater to only certain faiths. We felt a need to fulfill the desires of all the Christian faiths," Mrs. Jackman said.

"I think we definitely have fulfilled a need because our volume of business is growing from year to year at a rate of 20 to 25 per cent," she continued.

"In times of turmoil people turn back to religion. They come in great numbers. The young people are really groping and they want the security of a belief," she said.

Mrs. Jackman emphasized that The Grotto is more interested in getting across a philosophy rather than merely selling items.

"We try to respect all people in all denominations and those who lack a denomination," Mrs. Jackman stated. "We never argue or push anything on anyone. We are here to fill their needs. It's been a learning experience because we've learned to appreciate all types of people that we wouldn't have had contact with."

Jackman is a counselor at Montclair High School and his wife taught in Pomona schools until they opened the business on Nov. 1, 1969. The Grotto has always been a family affair with daughter Kathy working at the shop until her marriage several months ago. Ellen, 17, and Mike Jr., 13, still assist their parents in the business.

Since opening the book section has been expanded to accommodate the selections geared to children from toddler age to teenagers, adults, persons interested in the charismatic movement and persons with eye problems. For this latter group, the store offers large print editions of books and the Bible.

Traditional creches, or nativity scenes, are available as well as those in the cultural tradition of Taiwan and Mexico. The shop also has the largest selection of women's religious jewelry in the valley, including rings, crosses and crucifixions and key chains.

Other items include candles, cards for all occasions, posters, plaques, book markers, wedding plaques and crosses and religious pictures.

Assisting the Jackman family at the Grotto are Betsy Maddock, a student at Pomona Catholic High School, and Mrs. Arlene Deneen, an employee who has been with the Jackmans since they opened.

Mrs. Jackman summarized The Grotto as more than just a store. It's a "place where people can browse and search themselves."

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jackman examine one of the religious portraits at the family store.

Nativity scenes are among the gift items sold at The Grotto.

Ellen Jackman and Betsy Maddock stack the large assortment of books.

CLUB CHARTER — Laura Sotelo, president, St. Lucy's Priory Kewanette club and Lowell Andrews of the Glendora Kiwanis club hold the club charter the Kiwanis recently presented to the Kewanettes during a Kewanette luncheon.

Kiwanis present charter to club

Laura Sotelo, president of St. Lucy's Priory High School Keywanettes Club, was presented the club's charter at a luncheon held at the school.

Dr. Tom Stephenson president of the Glendora Kiwanis and Lowell Andrews, past president, and other Kiwanis members hosted the luncheon. Guests included Sister Francita, principal of St. Lucy's, Sister Theresa, director of development and the officers of the Glendora High School Key Club, headed by Nick Crece, president.

The Keywanettes were organized last year at St. Lucy's by Lowell Andrews, Larry Johnson, youth coordinator; and Lu Cronin, St. Lucy's faculty advisor. Officers were Peggy Patterson, president, Debbie Garcia, secretary, Maria Glogie, vice-president and Liz Blash, treasurer. The club's members raised funds for two scholarships. One is given to an incoming freshmen, and the other to a continuing student.

The present officers are seniors Laura Sotelo, president; Mary Messmer, vice-president; and Ann Beck, secretary-treasurer.

The club will work with the Glendora Police Department under Sgt. Bob Bulot. Members assisted in the distribution of "The Alerter — Glendora Neighborhood Watch" flyer. They also plan to get involved in more community projects.

A.L. soph selected as youth contest finalist

Alice Hall, an Alta Loma High School sophomore, has been selected as the school finalist in the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation Award contest.

She was chosen from all the sophomore class members and will represent the school in the state finals in March.

All sophomore class members voted for the top sophomore girls. The other nominees were Francine DuVall, Beverly Stephen, and Lori Vanderet. Faculty, counselor and student committee representatives then narrowed the field and made the final choice.

Choir to appear in Plaza show

The Alta Loma High School A Cappella Choir and Chamber Singers have a busy schedule in the next few weeks. Both groups will appear at the Montclair Plaza Christmas Choral Music affair on Wednesday, Dec. 8, and again in the annual Alta Loma High School Christmas Concert on Wednesday, Dec. 15.

Chamber singers will make an appearance before the San Bernardino County Music Education Association on Monday.

On Dec. 2, 7, and 10 respectively, the singers will appear at the Cucamonga Methodist Church for the United Methodist Women, the Ontario Lions Club and at Casa Colina.

Chamber Singers members are sopranos, Kim Whitehead, Cindy Cox, Cheryl Bohannon and Jeanne Urquiza; altos, Biza Sorenson, Kim Whitaker, Robyn Gearhart and Diane Miles; tenors, Jeff Pettitt, Mike Lopez, Greg Patterson and Russ Carlson; and basses, Mike Urena, Steve Shinn, Roy Arias, and Chuck Russell.

Director of both groups is Donald Bowers, choral music teacher.

Chino FFA gets award

The Chino Future Farmers of America at Chino High School recently received one of four national youth awards given by the March of Dimes. This was received in San Francisco this month during the March of Dimes convention.

The Chino chapter was honored because of its support and participation with the March of Dimes during the 1975-1976 school year. Among the many activities conducted, the members manned a check point for the Ontario walk-a-thon last December. The ride was organized and conducted as a project of the Chino FFA Horsemanship Club at Chino High School. This earned nearly $2,000 for the March of Dimes.

There is now national interest for promoting other rides.

This year, the FFA horsemanship class will be holding its second annual 15 mile ride-a-thon Dec. 4 at the Chino Rancho Ride grounds. The chapter hopes to attract over 1,000 riders and has set a goal for $8,000. The ride is open to riders of all ages and will include a mini horsemanship. There will also be trophies given for the largest group attending and the person who collected the most money.

The officers for this year's ride-a-thon are Gerri Graybill, chairman, Lance Barnes, secretary-treasurer, Tammy Santo, publicity, Lucy Bennidict, mailing, Arlene Verberg, awards, Omar Smith, route and Robin Hayes, refreshments.

For more information about the ride-a-thon, persons may contact Tom Kane at 628-2463 or Miss Graybill at 628-8852.

UC honors local seniors

Top high school seniors in chemistry, physics and mathematics have been honored for academic achievement at the fifth Recognition Awards Program at UC Riverside.

Its College of Natural and Agricultural Sciences honored 141 students from 47 high schools in Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Orange and Imperial counties. They were nominated by their teachers and counselors.

"The awards program is designed to encourage serious consideration of academic pursuits," said George Helmkamp, associate dean of academic affairs. "We attempt to show the award recipients a little bit about what modern science is like."

Helmkamp said the purpose of such exposure is to hear what is happening from the scientists themselves. "At the same time, students and instructors who accompany them see a little more of the campus than the casual visitor does and develop impressions about what UCR has to offer," he said.

Students selected include:

- Bonita High School: chemistry, Sander Eller, mathematics, Keith Brandt and physics, Michael Riley.
- Damien High School: chemistry, Steve Musarra, mathematics, Mark Gran-nen and physics, Matt Foley.
- Glendora High School:

chemistry, Katherine Kemby, mathematics, David Pating and physics, Michael Molsberry.

—Ontario Christian High School: chemistry, Rod Crow and mathematics, Randy Mouw.

—Pomona Catholic Girls High School: chemistry, Anne Miller and mathematics, Elenor Taylor.

—San Dimas High School: chemistry, Scott Brode, mathematics, Perry LaMont and physics, Mike Godfrey.
